

Help Tell Our Community's Story of the Foodways & Byways of North Central Washington

Gathering Our Voice is looking for photos from the 1880s to 1960s - to tell the story of food harvest and distribution in North Central Washington. Do you have photos that you can share with us? Photos of people harvesting food, sharing it with neighbors, and moving it to market. Photos of people hunting, fishing and gathering foods from the wild. Photos of people farming, processing and transporting food to packing sheds, grain elevators, railheads, creameries, butcher shops, and stores. We're interested in photos from the whole region. We'll take good care of your pictures, return them when we're finished, and credit your contribution in the video we will be producing, "Foodways & Byways of North Central Washington."

Contact:

Kristi Roberts, IRIS
509-888-7374
kristir@intermountainac.com

Branch Librarian, North Central Regional Library Local phone number:
www.ncrl.org

IRIS  Initiative for Rural Innovation
& Stewardship
www.iriscnw.org

 North Central
Regional Library

Creating Our Future on Past Successful Food Harvest and Distribution Practices